WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

Advance Reservations Sites

The Open House New York Weekend sites listed in this PDF guide require guests to make Advance Reservations, as space is limited. Reservations begin at 11am on Thursday, October 6 at ohny.org/reservations.

For more information about how to plan for Reservation Day, visit blog.ohny.org/2016-reservation-day

How to Use This Guide

Sites are listed in alphabetical order. Exact meeting locations will be provided after making a reservation, but this guide includes neighborhood and borough information to help you plan. Tour times, dates, duration, and a brief description are also included.

For longer descriptions and additional details, visit ohny.org/weekend/overview beginning on October 5.

Special Series

Throughout this guide, Advance Reservation sites that are participating in this year's special series are indicated by the following icons:

ARTNOIR: City of Cultural Exchange

Curbed Curates: Residences

New Landscapes New York

Celebrating a Centennial: National Park Service

Blog posts with more details about all four of these special series with full lists of participating sites, including Open Access sites that do not require Advance Reservations, visit blog.ohny.org

Open Dialogues

Interested in meeting architects and other design practitioners? Watch for the OPENDIALOGUE symbol throughout this guide.
